Frank as I have recently completed the LMI Effective Personal Productivity Course first of all I have to say Thank You to you personally and your staff, as I have not benefited from any of the many courses taken as I have this one. I am well on my way of achieving my Personnel goal of 20 lb weight loss as I have only 4 lbs to go. My organization goal of reduction in machine set up time by 20% on all four pieces of converting equipment has not only been reached but also exceeded. These achievements have helped increase production and profitability.

The Effective Personal Productivity Course has not only helped succeed with the achievement of setting goals, visualizing the goal and achieving the goal. As I have been able to change my style of management that has not only been recognized by my superiors but also my supervisor and the employees on the floor. These changes alone have been a greater success story than anyone would ever realize.

The changes that I have been able to make in how I listen to people have also been a success, as I have always thought that I listened to people. Now I listen to people and actually hear what they are saying. The benefits of the course have flown over into me personnel life and my wife's comments are if you had only taken this course years ago.

The six lessons in the course are designed to interflow from one to the other and as I progressed through each lesson they enabled me first to see who I really was and how I operated then they guided me on how to change. The successes are many as I truly have been able to reevaluate my management style and comfortable change it. The changes that I have made have brought smiles to my staff and employees and helped develop a management team far superior than I ever imagined.

Again

Thank You

I look foreword to many more of LMI Training Courses
