

I recently participated in the LMI Effective Leadership Development (ELD) program, and I was extremely satisfied with the experience. The training was well-structured and provided valuable insights into what it takes to be an effective leader. Throughout the program, I felt fully engaged and supported. The facilitators were knowledgeable, approachable, and always willing to answer any questions that I had. I appreciated the way they encouraged us to think critically and challenge our assumptions about leadership. The program was also highly interactive, with a range of activities that allowed me to practice my leadership skills on-the-job and receive feedback from my peers. I found this to be incredibly valuable, as it helped me to identify my strengths and areas for improvement. Perhaps most importantly, the program provided me with actionable strategies for improving my leadership skills and behaviours. I left the program with a clear sense of how I could apply what I had learned each day, making a truly positive impact on my team, my family, and my life.

Overall, the ELD program was a life-changing experience for me. It was an enriching and engaging experience that helped me to transform my leadership skills and feel more confident in my role. It also worked to transform my personal life, as a husband and father. I would highly recommend it to anyone who is looking to become a great leader, in business and at home.

Manuel Manana – Asset Protection Manager, New Gold

My husband completed the Effective Leadership Development program, and I am very impressed with the growth I have seen in him as a leader. He is showing a remarkable improvement in his ability to communicate effectively, build positive relationships, and solve problems collaboratively. Before the program, Manuel tended to dominate conversations and struggle with active listening. However, after completing the program, he is showing a greater ability to engage in meaningful dialogue with others and consider their perspectives. This is helping him to build stronger relationships with colleagues, family and friends and is developing a more collaborative approach to problem-solving.

Additionally, Manuel is showing a greater understanding of the importance of emotional intelligence in leadership. He is more aware of his own emotions and the impact they have on others, and he is able to use this knowledge to build a more positive and supportive environment. Overall, I am impressed with Manuel's growth as a leader after completing the Effective Leadership Development program. He has a stronger commitment to developing his skills and a willingness to apply what he has learned in his life and his job. He is now a better listener, friend, husband, and parent. I have no doubt that he will continue to excel as a leader and make a positive impact on our family and his job.
